Paul: Good evening Salumet, welcome.

Good evening.

Paul: Lovely to have you back.

I also, I am pleased to join with you again.

Di: Thank you for coming.

I know that all of you, my dear friends, have been waiting to be able to speak with me on matters that are happening in your world at this time. Firstly, let me say thank you my dear friends, for all the Love and Joy you give to many others. Each one here has had the opportunity to show what Love can do for the Spirit; and it is good for you to know how much of Spirit is with you on all of these occasions that you are so worried about.

I want to say, happiness does not come easily to all human beings, but I do want to thank you for everything that you have spoken about and given Love to people who are basically strangers to you. But I am sure that by now, each of you can feel the strength and the upliftment of Spirit, whenever you call upon it. (Agreed). So, therefore I take this opportunity to say thank you, my dear friends, for all the Love and the work that you do, because as I have already said to you, without you, it would be more difficult to keep this contact.

Paul: You've given us so much clarity, understanding and knowledge, it's a pleasure to try and share it. (Yes)

Sabine: And it uplifts us as well. (Agreed)

Yes, I want to speak, just a little, about your situation on your planet at this moment.

(Thanks) Do not be afraid, my dear friends, do not allow circumstances to make you feel unhappy or worried, or any of the negative emotions that come to you. It is not only the Planet Earth who is what you may call 'troubled' at this time; there are many universes my dear friend, I believe we have discussed this a little. There are so many galaxies, so many universes, so many more people that you would not recognise, who come from other times. All of them at this particular moment in time, are suffering in some way or another, because it is time to do so. Remember these words: IT IS time to do so.*

Paul: We were talking about suffering being like a path, a passageway to enlightenment.

Yes, so in knowing that fact, you should be able to say to yourselves, it is all in order and Spirit will see us through. So, remember those words, my dear friends.

Thanks

Paul: We know that there's light at the end of this tunnel, and then...

But you are just one small pinprick in the sand. (Yeah) Try to remember also, it is not all to do with Planet Earth. There are so many planets who are going through the same kind of situations.

Paul: We're just a tiny little planet, amongst much bigger ones, I'm sure.

But I heard you speak earlier about people passing to Spirit, and I want to say, who is it that wishes to say, 'they were too young', or something else, because in the time of passing, it is because you have completed the work that you chose to do. You understand? (Agreed) So, never feel sorry for anyone who is coming Home to join with the Greater Union of Planets and Spirit.*

Di: I've just been to my auntie's funeral, Salumet, and I felt a real upliftment there, because I knew that she's gone where she wants, but it's the grief of the people left behind. (Yes) I did my best to say where she'd gone and that she was well—I do think it helped a little bit, but it's natural to grieve, isn't it, as a human being?

As a human being, you have what you call tear ducts! (Giggle) Have you ever imagined what they are for?

Di: Releasing...

Yes, there is no trouble in tears, if it releases anxiety and everything else that you speak about, that can only be a good thing.

Have you anything to ask of me?

Sarah: I was just thinking, it's people's time to go back, but I was thinking those awful—well, I shouldn't be saying 'awful' from what you've said

Salumet, but the shooting of those children in that school in America, well there have been several around the world, but it's those children's time to go as well, Salumet, even though it's not their choice on this planet, but maybe it was their choice before they came here?

It was part of their journey that they chose, yes, but because they are small human beings and you do have great affection for your young people, we know, but try to learn some lessons from all of these things, because when you 'DIE', as you say, you are going to a very good place, a place that we all wish to gather to; but even in the desire to go, you must not go, because it is part of your plan. (This refers to desiring to go before our planned time) Do you understand? (Yes.) Does that help you?

Sarah: Yes, thank you.

Paul: I've got a few questions from different people—have you got time to take a few?

We'll continue and I will let you know.

(The questions were written down, and a flashlight was needed to read them)

Paul: Some scientists in Japan, Osaka University are close to obtaining solar energy from Sea water, through some kind of chemical process, which collects hydrogen peroxide, which should overcome the limitations of solar only being available during the daytime, when the sun's out, but this would in effect, prolong being able to use the power from solar energy constantly, 24 hours a day. You mentioned once that energy would come from the sea and I wondered if this has anything to do with that?

You have just answered your own question. I told you, did I not, that many answers would occur from the seas, the waters of the world—not only waters of Planet Earth, but all of the others surrounding. Water is like a jewel in a crown. So, yes, what these scientists are doing is helping to make life easier and become more knowledgeable themselves, about what is available.

Paul: So, this could be very important times...

It could be, but I feel, or not 'feel,' but I can tell you, it will be a great deal of time, before there is a rich reward.

Paul: Ah, yes, so it's early days, (Early days) and we might have to rely on fossil fuels...

...for a while longer, yes. There is much to be learned, from not only the seas, but the different planets.

Paul: Another question, if you could take another one: Serena, who used to come here, put a question: She's been researching an old civilisation called the Tartarians, not in the too distant past. These Tartarians, it seems they built buildings, often with copper domes on the tops of buildings and you can even see them in many cities, like Cambridge, especially around churches and there's speculation that these copper domes helped gather energy somehow from the ether, storing it up and producing lighting and perhaps heating, not so long ago even. Could it be that these Tartarians, were able to extract energy from the earth, perhaps from the ley-lines? Is this another example of lost knowledge?

Yes, I see, there have been so many civilisations connected with the Earth Planet—situations which you have no knowledge of still and I am not here to tell you why, because that is part of your evolution, you understand? But there is much on planet Earth to be discovered, which will be of great use to many people here at this time and in the coming time too.

You are speaking about a civilisation who had great knowledge—people have differing names for them, but it is something for mankind to discover, not for Spirit to give the answers to it, do you understand? (Yes) That is part of their evolution, to discover and to become aware.

Paul: Mm, a bit more detective work...

Yes, you would not like to have too much information all of the time now, would you? (No) I think you mean 'yes', but that is not likely to happen!

Laughter

Di: It's not the right time to have that information. (Yes, yes)

Paul: There's so much knowledge available, it would be bewildering probably...

And so many civilisations that have existed on this planet that you will never find out about, in near time. I hope that helps a little—but it is good for humankind to try to discover for themselves...

(At that point the flashlight shined a little too bright for Salumet as Paul was trying to read another question)

Yes, please continue.

Paul: There's one other question from a reader if you can take one more. This is a subject that's come up already, but it might be a new slant on it: I think Tony's first wife passed to Spirit 37 years ago and his son passed to Spirit 5 years ago and there are several other sons that have all had children and grandchildren over the years and he was wondering whether his wife who passed 37 years ago could easily have reincarnated into one of the children. He's not suggesting that's happened, but it's the possibility and he also wonders whether the son who only passed 5 years ago, whether that might be too soon, if they did wish to reincarnate into the family, if you like, into one of the other son's children? And he also wondered about when he departs at some point, from this world, because he's quite elderly now and if his first wife's already reincarnated, would he still be able to communicate? He answers his own question in a way, he thinks, 'yes', they would, through astral travel at night/during sleep-state.

Yes, what he's saying to you, indeed happens all of the time, when people want to reincarnate back, instead of going forward; but that is their wish, that is their free will still being used. So, yes, you could have an elderly parent come back as a young child. It happens all the time, but I have to say, it belongs to the person, not anyone else, they must make the decisions for themselves.

Paul: Yes, I understand, so they are central, they won't come back necessarily...

It's not automatically...

Paul: ...just because there was a marriage of Love...

Yes, and of course, too, man and woman do like to wait for each other, especially when there has been a very strong Love bond.

Paul: They do like to wait for each other?

Yes, they can if they wish, or they can move forward, but normally there would have been some kind of, I will use the word 'contract' lightly, for doing this, before they came. Yes. Has that helped a little?

Paul: Yes, that clarifies, thank you.

Sarah: When we go into Spirit, if we haven't finished what we came here to do here, can we still move on instead?

No, you cannot move on until you have decided that what you need to do is imminent. It may take 100's of your years even, it may take just one week of your time, but again, it is up to each individual what happens—nobody is forced to do anything they do not want to do.

Sarah: Ah okay, when you said the decision to move forward. I thought we had to come back to finish what we haven't done.

No, no, I would like to dispel that whilst I am here. NO ONE IS FORCED TO DO ANYTHING THEY ARE NOT READY TO DO. It may take them another 2000 years in Spirit before they decide to come back for whatever reason. So yes, does that help you?

Sarah: Yes, thank you Salumet.

Paul: There's no hurry, because there's no 'time'. Yes, 'time' belongs to your planets, not to Spirit.

Natalie: Could I ask a quick question? (Yes.) I'm not sure if you can answer it, but it's been a bit of a funny year for me and I believe something happened. I was reading on soul-mates and connections and one thing caught my eye, which was: if you do meet your soul-mate, nothing kind of gets in the way and it just pulls you kind of, there's no stopping it, regardless of your situation. I was just wondering if you could confirm if that's what's happened?

With you? (Yeah.) No, you cannot put blame to any other person, each of you are individual in so many ways, each of you have free will, which we have been discussing. The majority of people coming to Spirit know what they are coming to and what they went to. If there is any blockage, I'll call it, or any other disturbance, that is to do with the individual Spirit. Even if you feel it is a soul-mate, that cannot stop you doing what you have to do. (Okay.) But I know what you're speaking of and many people, there are many questions to be posed about soul-mates; people have so many viewpoints, but just know this, that as a Spirit, you are a being of Love, you are a being able to match in time, anything else other than Love. So, I would say to you, my dear friend, it is time for you to move forward, and to, I won't say neglect or ignore, but I would say be focussed on what you wish to do in this lifetime now. (Thank you.) Ask for help from Spirit and it will be given, you understand? (Yes, thank you.)

Yes, now I feel I must leave you now, but my dear friends, I have been so happy to re-join with you once more, I hope any question you have may be answered honestly and truthfully and I desire that the Love you hold from Spirit that it will always be with you at all times.

All: Thank you and our Love goes with you.

Yes.

Paul: We are so grateful for your visits.

I hope it has lifted your thinking, (It always does.) because too many people become afraid, and what is being afraid, if it is not just fear allowed to take hold? We do all we can to help you my dear friends.

Di: It's nice to know that you're always with us. Yes, you can speak to me at any time, you know, but there is much to be done at this time, but remember, it CAN be done and you ARE Beings of Light, Great Light in the realms of the universe.

Paul: There is still a lot of fear around, and we need to get our brooms to sweep it all away.

Yes, you are doing well, I am so happy that you are able to understand, but there is no point in going over things that had happened, you must look forward, you must choose your lives in time to come and then things will become clearer for you. So, until we come together again, I will say thank you my dear friends.

Thank you + good byes.

3. Salumet has spoken much previously about soul-mates: 12/11/2001:

The soul-mates were created together for all time, from the beginning of what you know as time, and that subject is much too complicated for us to discuss here. I could speak of molecular energy, I could speak of all kinds of energy, but I feel that, for you, would confuse the issue. Soul-mates were created together. They vibrate on the same electromagnetic wavelength. They are counterparts of one another. That is the simplicity of the soul-mates; that they are energy which is vibrating on the same energy line. Do you understand? It is an issue of words again. That is why true soul mates do not meet in incarnations except very rarely: there is no need when they incarnate at the same frequencies.

Now we come to twin-souls. This indeed should be the term you use instead of your soul-mates, which is used most often in your world, because twin-souls meet many, many times in different incarnations and their purpose is in recognition, in coming together to try to form and create and blend into one energy; that is the purpose of their coming together. All of you in this room are twin-souls. You have met in other times, in other lifetimes.

And finally, a Salumet exercise for self-development 2018/01/08:

For the past few years, we have been encouraging all of you to look deeper into your soul, to find that part of you that is eternal, to recognise in others your own weaknesses—where there is fault, look only to yourself. I would like you to think about this a little more deeply, and you will find just how much you have grown. How many times have you stopped in your tracks and said, 'I must not do this, or I must do that'? It is that Soul within which is guiding you all. Few words, but a very deep thought, and I would like you my dear friends, that you discover within yourself that little piece of the Creator which will continue to ever move forward. Never allow life to become static, allow thinking to be filled with Love and, when I say Love, I mean Spiritual Love, the kind of Love that overflows all things, you understand?
