

~10th March 1997~

Good evening. (General greetings)

Before I speak this time, I would say to you all, to give thoughts to that Great Force, to which we belong, to give thanks all of you, for where you are at this moment of time. I would say this to you, that all of you in this lifetime, have achieved much, much that you should be thankful for, although for a few, unquestionably, they are not aware of how much they have achieved. So on behalf of you all, I offer our humble thanks to all of those who come close to you, with much help.

Les: We would like to join you in those thanks please. We are happy to know that we have progressed to that state and thank you for telling us.

Whilst we speak of progression, I wish to say this to you that: Mankind in general upon this planet Earth, has reached an awareness which brings joy to those of us in my world, who are striving, who are striving to bring knowledge to this Earth. Surrounding this planet, there now prevails a stillness and peace, which you would not be aware of, but brings much satisfaction to us — a stillness and peace, which over your next one thousand plus years, will pervade all of mankind to such an extent, that no longer will there be the fear and the distrust shall I say, of all things termed supernatural; they will become known and natural to mankind — mankind will return to that knowledge which belongs to them. So I say to you dear friends, although you will not exist as you do now in these times to come, I extend this knowledge to you, in order that you carry it forward with you, to our side of life. Keep it with you, use it wisely and know that you have become part of it.

Les: Thank you very much indeed. I'm particularly interested that you should say this tonight, because during this last week, I have thought of you a number of times, after listening to various religious broadcasts, all of which have said the very thing which you have said, that mankind is beginning to recognise spirituality.

I have told you when first I came, that mankind will change — you must return to those values, to which it is known will be of benefit to all. This planet Earth as you know it cannot be allowed to be destroyed by mankind and I have spoken to you about this. So, if we cannot allow you to continue on the destructive pathway which you have been treading, then we have to look forward to teaching mankind to help them in their awareness. And that is why your planet at this time is being all-pervading, in all areas of living, with stillness, peace and much Love. It will come to all, although I know you will say there is so much strife within our world, how could it possibly be so? I say this to you dear friends: All things are possible, when you speak of Love and the power it can create, within all men. I accept that some men will never accept the love given to them; they are the foolish ones, who have much to learn. But good in the end will always overcome those who have doubts, those who have evil intent — and only those who refuse to accept what is given, will leave this planet, to find and accept, the love given elsewhere. But you are in an age, where there is much growth, much being given from our world. If only I could bring a little to you I would, but I hope you can accept my words instead.

Les: We certainly will accept your words and we're very grateful for them and of course a thousand years hence, is far beyond our comprehension, but do you see us again having the opportunity to work together, once we reach your realms?

The opportunity is there for you all, but I can tell you that a few of you will go in different directions.

Les: But we shall still be able to assist in this work of development and fulfilment, shall we?

Of course, I would not be giving you this information, if it were to fall by the wayside. I do not come to waste words, but to encourage you to go forward and to know that ahead of you all, is much greater work, when once you return home.

Les: Good, we're very pleased, we've not discussed it, but I'm sure everybody would be wishing that and it's very nice to know positively, that it will be so.

Dear friends, once there is spiritual links and bonds, they cannot be broken. So always remember the opportunity is open to you, but still for some time to come, even in our world, your own freewill will come into play. I would say that the majority here will eventually gather together, with many more who are in our world. You will work as a team, you will use the knowledge given to you and you will go forward, rather than return again to this planet. I do not wish to tell you at this stage, who those few are, it is not important, but in saying so, when they break away, there will be a good purpose and for them fulfilment also, you understand?

Les: Yes we do.

Now, for this time I would leave you and allow another to speak. I will remain whilst this meeting continues, with this one. And so dear friends, know as always that I enfold you all, with my love.

(General thanks + farewells)

Another communicator followed swiftly through Sue — a Native American Indian friend, who had been before:

Les: Welcome to you, thank you for joining us.

White Feather.

Les: Hello White Feather, This is an unexpected pleasure. It's a long time since you've spoken to us.

Hard for me — stay short time only. Welcome to my friend.

Les: It's certainly very nice to have you here again.

Many new peoples here, since first I came to you.

Les: Yes there are indeed.

All old souls and well-loved.

Les: That's very nice to hear. And we're very happy to know that you still work with us.

Have travelled much since we last spoke; over many oceans and through many of your years and upwards into Higher Plane.

Les: You have been busy and we feel it an honour that you should come back to us again. Am I right in thinking that there are three you would wish to speak to, who are new since you were here last?

I will speak, but not to individual peoples, those who have not heard my words before, will know I am addressing into their very hearts. I bring you many, many greetings from those who cannot travel back into your realms. You will know how difficult sometimes it can be to return. I can say to you, and you know I do not mean to cause offence, when I say this, it is a difficult thing I do this time. Due to physical body I use, I am managing to keep my voice lower than you probably have heard it before.

Les: Yes, it has been very loud in the past.

I say to you now, I come for specific purpose and will speak now, for short time only.

Les: We're always happy to listen to you of course.

I wish you to know that before your next new moon, there will be much, much to please you, coming into this room. I would ask each one here, to please in the weeks that follow now, that before you come into this most peaceful and tranquil place, you will find time, in your busy lives, to rest and meditate, before you make your journey here.

Les: Yes, we shall certainly try.

We need tranquillity of mind, body and soul and hope that with quiet meditation, it may be partly achieved, so that what is intended here, can slip in with minimum effort.

Les: Thank you, we shall certainly try and do that for you and of course, for ourselves.

To those who are unused to hearing my voice, I say to you that the next time I speak with you, it will be louder and please not to be alarmed. You are used to me I know my dear friend.

Les: Yes, when you used my lady, you were very loud.

And you can assure these people, I am more gentle, than perhaps I sound.

Les: Yes, we understand that.

I will say to you and I'm sure you know your lady is with me many, many times.

Les: Yes I am aware of that and I thank her for it. We work as the team we were told we should be. She accompanies me on journeys and is learning so much and giving so much in return.

Les: Yes she always did that when she was here. I'm not surprised that she's continuing to do it.

She is truly amazing and most beloved person.

Les: I'm pleased to hear that.

The oceans are not large enough to take the love that emits from her soul.

Les: I was very grateful for the years I had with her here.

I will leave you now, with the blessing of White Feather. I will return at the time of your next new moon and I will speak to you and teach you something that I have learned since last we met.

Les: We look forward to that and to hearing you speak again.

We will advise you when I will return, there will be certain conditions, which with your acceptance, we wish to ask for.

Les: Yes of course, you only have to let me know and I shall be pleased to do what you wish.

Now, this little one tires of me and we do not wish to distress her further. There will be no more speech here this time. Please bring both this little one and our dear friend here back gently and then say your closing words.

Les: Yes we will do that and once more we all thank you very, very much.

White Feather say to you all, until we meet again.

Les: We look forward to it. Our love goes with you and God bless you.

White Feather happy to have been amongst you once again.

Les: We're very, very happy to have had you with us and we look forward to the next time.

*White Feather then blessed us in another language: Hakinjehmorcavagarm Ekotivahh Distavarn Ekontigargo.
