

~16th August 1999~

Good evening. (General welcomes)

I wish to say to you how pleasing it is to be with you once more. (General thanks) I will say this to you, I speak with you just a few words this time my dear friends. I hope to use this quiet time in working with this one, (Eileen) but before I do I say to you this: There has been and there will be in the coming two years of earthly time many changes, many endings, many beginnings; but it will not change what I come to teach you. The new knowledge I have promised to bring to you, this will continue now we have established contact with you. There will be no change in this area.

Lilian: That's nice to know.

I also wish to say to you, and especially those amongst you who have concerns about the lack of human male people. I will elaborate a little on what I have said in past times. Each individual human being is Spirit which consists of male and female energies. Too much emphasis my dear friends has been placed in past times about males and females who come together for the purpose of communication. I say this to you, it matters not whether all are female or male in gender, because the energy we utilize from each person combines both male and female energy. So I do not want you my friends, to be confused on this issue. All we ask is that there are people wishing to be used in order that communication can take place; that is the importance of these groups. Not whether you are holding hands, not whether numbers of male and female be equal—all of these issues are trivialities my dear friends. But I wish you to know and to understand that the energy we use from you comes from that Spirit that you are and not the flesh and bone of the human being. Is that clear to you all? (General agreement) For now I say to you my dear friends that very soon we will have new knowledge to bring to you, but before I leave you this time I also want to say that although the knowledge I bring to you I call 'new,' there can be no new knowledge. Remember what I have told you, everything is, has been and always will be, therefore there cannot be 'new' knowledge, only knowledge which has not been brought to the forefront of your thinking. Do you understand? (General agreement) With these words then, I will leave you and I will say this to you: Once more allow your minds to be open to those who are close with you this time. I ask you my dear friend that you speak quietly with each one in order that they can bring forward that help which is being given to them, in whichever form that it comes to them. I would ask also that there be not sudden noises this time.

Lilian: Yes, and we shall look forward to hearing from you next time.

As always I am ever with you. (General thanks and farewells)
