

~9th June 2003~

Good evening. (greetings)

Although words have not been spoken since last we met, I assure you my dear friends that the link with you all is still strong. (happiness expressed by sitters—several prior meetings had had to be cancelled)

George: That's nice to know.

I hear the dear gentleman's voice, and I would say to him that I promise to speak with you about the pyramids, but I hasten to say this to you: I will not speak this time, but I have not forgotten what I have told you and in some near time to come we will discuss this with you.

George: Thank you, that would be very interesting. Yes, I have my thoughts on that. I expect you know something of my thoughts anyway.

Yes, I am well aware, that is why I wish to speak with you in order that you understand that I have not forgotten.

George: I am sure you wouldn't forget.

Our 'memory', as you call it, is not apt to forget! But we will speak about that subject as we will broach many others in the coming months. I wish only to say to you my dear friends that over the next few weeks of your time, each one of you should feel a great upliftment within yourselves, because we are making preparations with you all. So, be aware of those innermost feelings in the weeks to come.

Lilian: I will pass that message on to your instrument as well.

I know you do not always feel or understand how we work with you, but let me tell you that there is always purpose behind our actions with you. If there are any urgent questions, I will be happy to answer, but I would like to work quietly with this one (Eileen) this time, in order that we restore some balance to her.

Lilian: There was just one lady that's shown an interest in coming, (Sue—a friend of Graham's) and she lives in Reading. She does understand this work.

I have to say, we influence those who become interested in this group. Therefore of course the answer not only lies with us, but as I have said before, if each one of you is happy to invite another, then so be it. Already I feel you have forgotten that I told you many would come and many would go.

Lilian: And your instrument was impressed—we've probably mentioned this before but I will mention it again—before you actually spoke to us, (pre-1994) Eileen was impressed to write down that people from around the world would come to listen and yes, that's certainly happened.

I wish to say to you, as time continues my dear friends that each one of you will become much more intuitive as you call it. I would prefer to call it 'spiritual awakening', but of course you know and realize that you play the biggest part in that development. We can help you so much, but we cannot interfere and this you know well.

George: I was only reading about some philosophers very recently. You have been talking to us about innate knowledge and an alternative word used by them is 'a priori knowledge' which is the same thing. I didn't realize but it is clear that a number of philosophers from Plato two and a half thousand years ago, right through to Kant who is a particular one, who recognized the innate knowledge that comes to us 'through the gates of heaven' is the way that he put it, which seemed quite apt to me, and right through to an Australian philosopher in 1938. So, over that period a number of philosophers seem to have got a good understanding about innate knowledge.

Yes. I have told you my dear friend that there are many in your world at this present time and times that have gone by; and after all, two thousand earthly years is but a short number. There has always existed those humankind, who have extended knowledge and whose thinking is a little greater than most.

George: Yes of course. Two thousand years seems quite a long time to us, because it's a good proportion of the time during which we've had written records.

It is but one wink of your eye. (Yes.) Yes. Now my dear friend (Lilian) I will leave with you the rest of this evening's work. I will tell you once more that there are many who are willing to come to you. It is now available to you; much energy, much love, much understanding of what you truly are within. If you would but open those hearts and minds, there is so much you could achieve within this room. I therefore will withdraw this time, but as always I enclose you with my love and light. (thanks expressed)

Lilian: Thank you. Our love goes with you.

I would leave only saying that the instrument will need a little time at the end of this evening.

Lilian: Yes, we will help her.

One followed through Sarah:

We will begin by taking a little look at the thoughts that each one of you is currently transmitting. We are receiving many different ones from you. The 'gate' from which I come, is the one that takes the important requests and sorts them into the appropriate—perhaps I should say 'files'. We as you know, do not permit any bad thoughts to go to those who are vulnerable and likewise, some thoughts which may be of good intention, are also perhaps not appropriate at the time of being sent. These thoughts are never discarded and can never be got rid of, but are kept and at an appropriate time, will be forwarded to the appropriate recipient. So those thoughts that are being transmitted this evening have already been put into the correct 'file', and are being dealt with in the correct way. My purpose this evening is to do a joint exercise. These thoughts that you are putting forward, we wish you to try to do one thought together and to impress upon the one who is sitting to my right hand side—we wish you all to have one thought which we wish you to direct to this lady and we will tonight see if she can transcribe these thoughts for you. This exercise is a simple one, but it is one to show you how important your thoughts are. So, if you would like to transmit just one thought to this lady, we will in a few moments see if she has collected them in the correct way. These thoughts can be transcribed in a different way and sometimes the thought that is put forward comes out slightly differently. This is not because your thought has not been accepted, it is simply because the thought from the person receiving it, has put a little of her own thought into this idea, this thought and it has become slightly altered. But the general idea, the general theme, should be the same. So let us just try this exercise for a few moments. (There was a short pause of 1 or 2 minutes, while we attempted the exercise—we didn't do very well, but our guide encouraged us nonetheless with our efforts.)
