

NEWS MEDIA CENSORSHIP: Increasing Western News Media Censorship is beginning to Rock the Boat

Increasing censorship within traditional news media is giving some of us a great deal of concern. Deeply serious matters are being shelved by media and replaced by blatant blather about boringly tedious trivial items. And the reasons for this current trend are becoming embarrassingly more obvious by the minute to an increasingly discerning public. The reasons—deliberate bias for political or financial gain, preservation of a desired status quo within society, a reluctance of establishment to admit past errors, fear of appearing silly in leadership, not wishing to appear alarmist, military secrecy and so forth.

Why should celebrity gossip and the squabbles of footballers be served up to public, while other deeply significant news items get withheld? Let us quote a few examples: I think we have all heard of Unidentified Flying Objects (UFOs) and the seasonal Crop Circle messages that UFOs continue to leave for us. Much doubt has been cast on these matters by mischievous nincompoops, some of whom are doubtless paid to do what they do. So where UFOs and crop circles are concerned, public has first been deliberately mystified and misled, then further reporting has been withheld. But those who have spent time in proper research and who have visited circle sites know there is a nucleus of genuine phenomena midst a melee of unacceptable malpractice. Incidentally, the genuine crop circles are left with a residual energy that is the same as 'pyramid energy'.

Pyramids: All have heard of the Egyptian pyramids that stand on the Giza Plateau, simply because the work and word of Egyptologists has been considered acceptable by media. But what about the Bosnian pyramids here in Europe? The 'Bosnian Pyramid of the Sun' is considerably larger than those in Egypt and very much older—radio-carbon dated to 30,000 years. This pyramid continues to produce the energy for which it was originally designed and extremely interesting excavations are now into their ninth year. Yet few people I speak with have even heard of these Bosnian wonders. But they exist! They have 10-miles of tunnels, with here and there multi-ton ceramic artefacts for drinking water supply. Eminent scientists have made their inspections and respected laboratory teams have produced test reports. I and colleagues have been and seen—yet few are aware because these pyramids have gone unreported by Western news media. Why? The reason is possibly that ancient pyramids are energy-producing devices that Russian scientists have explored and understand while Western scientists have ignored and do not understand. Dr Nikolai Kozyrev did his wonderful scientific work proving the universal aether energy existence during the Cold War period—enough said? Professors Volodymyr Krasnoholovets and Alexander Golod have some considerable understanding of 'pyramid energy' and have built 50 glass fibre pyramids in Russia and Ukraine, for research and usage. Existence of the energy they produce, as they sweep through the aether with Earthly rotation, can be dramatically proved—water fails to freeze in its presence—even down to minus 40⁰ C! A very clear proof! We know that there are many intelligent uses for such energy that will benefit mankind immensely, but sadly not the West, so long as this good news continues to go unreported by our media.

The majority of world population are similarly unaware of the HAARP and chemtrails program aimed at 'world weather control' (plus other applications), pioneered by the United States, from around 1990. The letters stand for: High Frequency Active Auroral Research Program. The program receives funds largely from the US Air Force and US Navy. Patents are listed in the US Patent Office, so we are not to be fobbed off by declarations of fictional conspiracy theory. A major ground installation in Alaska produces a huge 3.6 Gigawatts of energy that can be beamed to heat regions of ionosphere to 50,000⁰ C. Governments have cooperated and have arranged further installations around the world. 'Chemtrails' are the parallel trails of chemicals that you often see being deliberately sprayed from high-flying aircraft. Unlike 'contrails' (vapour trails), they hang around—do not disperse quickly, and often form grid patterns across the sky. The trails are extremely fine dispersions of nanoparticles of aluminium and other toxic metal compounds—far too fine to be filtered by any filtration system. HAARP and the atmospheric dispersions work together to achieve results. This amounts to a clandestine criminal act that is military, is classified, operates world-wide and is kept under wraps. And atmospheric aluminium contributes to Alzheimer's and Parkinson's diseases. The connection between aluminium and neurological disease has been well documented. Clearly, this criminal act must not continue and the world owes a debt of gratitude to 'whistle-blowers'—Julian Assange, Pte Manning, Edward Snowden et al—who are revealing details to public, via the Internet.

So where does this lead us? Firstly of course to the awareness that there is a shortfall of significant news items as delivered by traditional TV channels, presented well diluted with excess domestic trivia. Secondly, the reasons for certain news exclusions amount to a selective censorship policy. And thirdly, it has become very clear that the various news sources now fall into two distinct categories: (1) traditional TV / radio / Press and (2) the Internet. The disadvantages of type 1 are described above. But perhaps it should also be pointed out that in my opinion 'Russia Today' and 'Al Jazeera' TV channels are much less biased and more representative of world news than 'Sky' or 'BBC'. Type 2, the Internet news, is a presentation of ALL news world-wide and is void of censorship. Its disadvantage is that it also contains spurious fanciful material, making it necessary to trawl for appropriate entries. This is quite easy and straightforward, but might initially be seen as an obstacle by elderly generation. But even the elderly can become adept with just a little guidance. So if traditional news sources are to stay in business they must change their ways. Currently it is younger generation and the computer-literate who experience full news coverage, while there is a shrinking population of computer-illiterate who remain

'conditioned' through lack of full and fair news coverage. This will change. We all pay for the information services, so let us not forget the adage: He who pays the piper calls the tune.

References:

1. Prof Volodymyr Krasnoholovets, The Great Pyramid as an Aether Wind Trapping Site, Hera Magazine, Rome, 2002.
2. E W Silvertooth, Motion through the Aether, Electronics & Wireless World, May 1989.
3. Dr Sam Semir Osmanagich, Pyramids Around the World and Los Pyramids of Bosnia, Archaeological Park: Bosnian Pyramid of the Sun Foundation, Sarajevo, Bosnia-Herzegovina, 2012.
4. Russell L Blaylock, Aluminium Induced Immunoexcitotoxicity in Neurodevelopmental and Neurodegenerative Disorders, Current Organic Chemistry, 2012; 2: 46-53.
5. T-T Win Shwe, H Fujimaki, Nanoparticles and neurotoxicity, International Journal of Molecular Sciences, 2011; 12: 6267-6280.
6. George E Moss, Earth's Cosmic Ascendancy, White Crow Books, Guildford, UK, 2014.
7. www.salumetandfriends.org

Dr Osmanagich stands at the tunnel complex entrance and points beyond Visoko to the distant Bosnian Pyramid of the Sun.

Sky patterned by chemtrails.

Etchilhampton crop circle, 20th August 2013.

Lucy Pringle photo.